

RESOURCES AND SERVICES ON THE INTERNET

Course 8207110: Web Design Services 1

Benchmark 55.07

List the available resources and services on the Internet (e.g., electronic commerce, personal, government, business, etiquette, education, distance learning).

Personal Resources and Services

The best way to gain a sense of the available personal resources and services on the Internet is to use the advanced search feature of Google and key the type of service for which you are looking. A site will often provide links to other sites. Some examples are:

<http://www.match.com/>

This is an online national dating service.

<http://www.mapquest.com/>

This is a website that offers directions from one location to another.

<http://www.alcoholics-anonymous.org>

This is the website for Alcoholics Anonymous.

<http://www.americanheart.org>

This is the website for the American Heart Association.

<http://www.anti-smoking.org/>

This is the website for the Foundation for a Smoke Free America.

<http://www.ourfamilyplace.com/finances.html>

This site discussed family financial issues such as budgets, saving plans, investing, and buying a home.
